MW: I mean, and er, er, er, er, I mean he-he-he told me; "You are forcing to resign." "I have not--not forced you to, whatchamacallit, to resign, or to...whatchamacallit, to submit your resignation. I mean that all I am telling you, Abdel Jabbar, is that I am doing my duty here [sigh]--"

AJ: True.

MW: "--Mo-More than once and over two years, I have been telling you: "Abdel Jabbar, I mean, if in each trip of the trips you make and while you are on-board the plane, if you put together all your invoices and send them to me and tell me; 'these are my expenses' because here, I have to know, whatchamacallit, each er, penny that had been spent for the Foundation so that when they come to audit us, [they ask] 'where is the money being spent?' [I'll answer] 'Please, here they are, my dear--'

AJ: Sounds right.

MW: "--here are its invoices."

AJ: Sounds right.

MW: But to, to, not to say...to start stuttering to them and tell them; "ba'--ba'--ba'--ba', I swear to God I don't know where they are--"

AJ: It is not right, no.

MW: "--by God, Abdel Jabbar spends and doesn't bring me invoices!"

AJ: It's true, if --if...I mean if they come back to you, you have to prove every penny, I mean where it had been spent, I mean, where it had gone to or came from. I mean you cannot without...I mean the only proof will be the receipts, I mean.

MW: Hmm.

[OV]

AJ: [UI]

MW: And, and--and--and these are in--in any, in any company, and I told you, "We are under scrutiny ." And I, and I explained to him, brother Abdel Jabbar, more than once, [I said] "Abdel Jabbar, the FBI is keeping an eye on us--"

AJ: I know that.

MW: Er, er, they may be eavesdropping on us on everything, they co- co- co- count our breaths--
